LTI Advance Threat & Vulnerability Management Service

A Larsen & Toubro Group Company

Overview

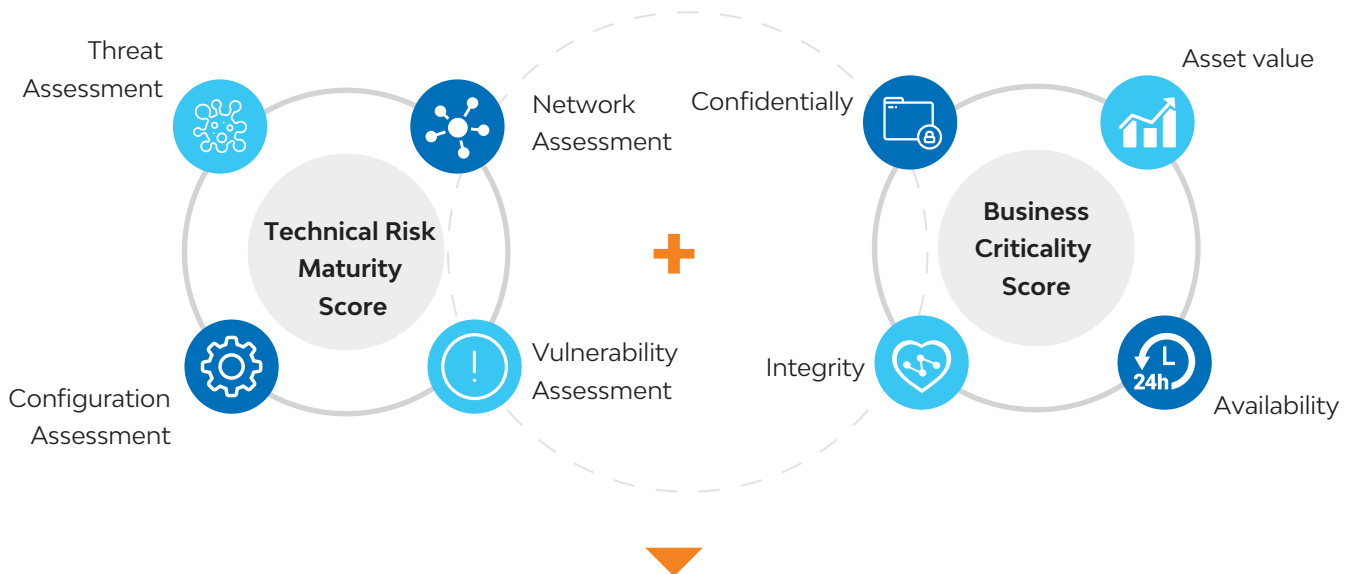

Cyber threats and privacy issues are on the rise, riding on top of the ongoing disruptive technological advancements. Syndicates of skilled & sophisticated adversaries target organizations to exploit vulnerabilities and make unethical gains, often jeopardizing the business of the targeted organizations. The threats are constantly evolving, targeting all organizations, while becoming more prevalent and high-profile. Attackers today are patient, persistent, and sophisticated.

In such scenarios, it has become extremely challenging for the organizations to track, manage and contain technological risk in a consistent & holistic manner across the enterprise. With Advanced Threat and Vulnerability Management Service from LTI, organizations can achieve the desired objective of real-time risk tracking with a business-friendly dashboard.
