

Case Study

Managing Digital Identity Services for an Energy Storage Solutions Leader

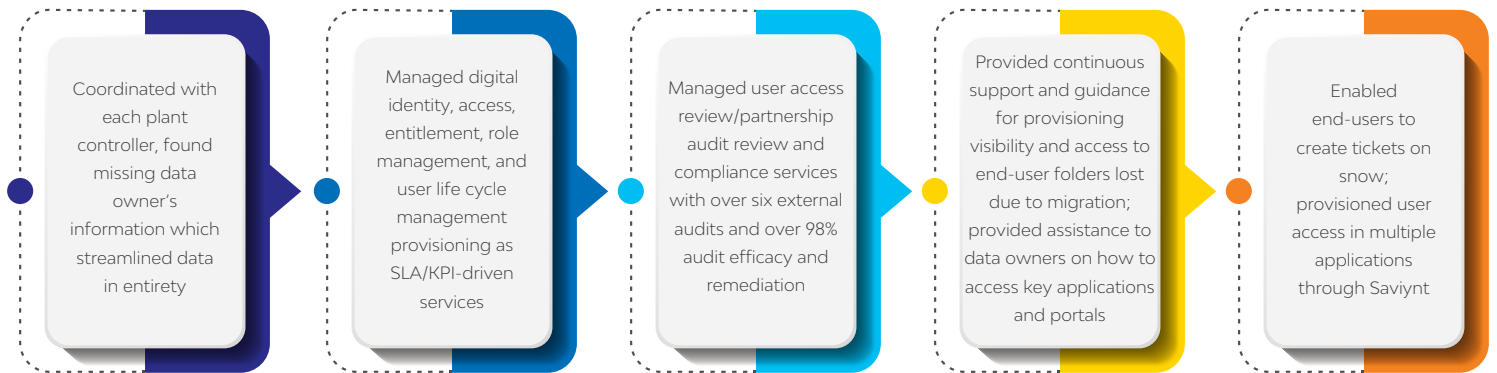

The client develops the most advanced energy storage technologies for virtually every type of vehicle, and powers one in three vehicles in the world. They produce more than 150 million batteries every year, amounting to one-third of the total industry output.

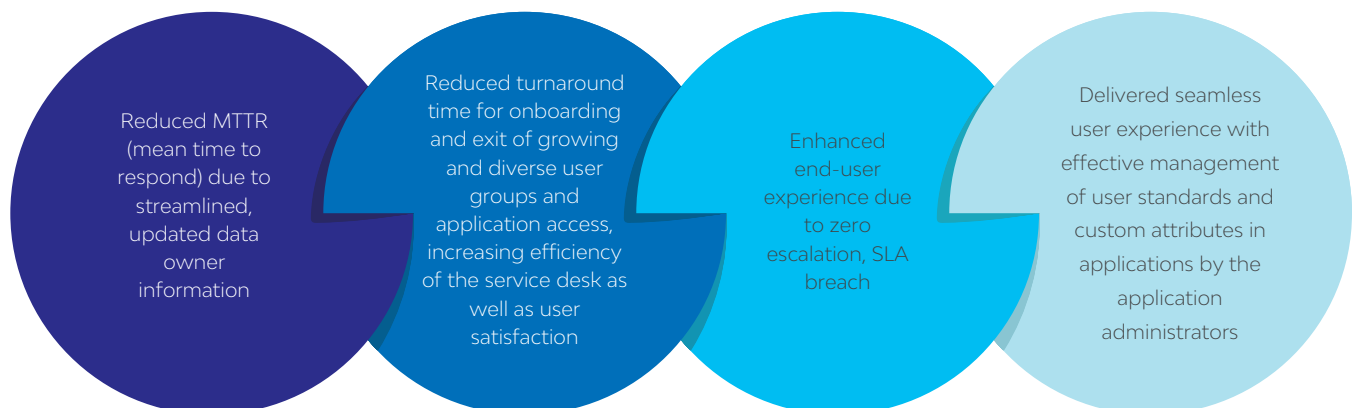

Business Challenges

- ✓ Decommissioning of existing virtual machines and jump servers, and handling high volume of service requests for access provisioning for multiple tools and applications such as ServiceNow, Maximo, etc.
- ✓ Managing end-to-end digital identity, access, entitlement, roles, and user life cycle management including provisioning, de-provisioning, and governance
- ✓ Conforming to compliance and audit requirements of the customer environment
